A sufficient number of transactions of private contract occurred yesterday to create as much activity in the market as could reasonably be expected in the middle of June. The volume transactions formally recorded also points to considerable business being done. At private contract the sale of a recently completed building ing at Nos. 95 and 97 University place took the lead in the list of the day's doings. In Harlem another sale of a large plot on Broadway welled the list of the transactions reported thus far this week. The recorded transfers also contained several dealings in Harlem, the st important of which was the passing of title to a large plot on the northeast corner of lenox avenue and 116th street from mas E. Crimmins to Sophie Rothschild and another, the deeds bearing revenue stamps indicative of a consideration of $125,000. In The Bronx Richard Siegman took title to a large plot on Bergen avenue, mortgaged for $50,000, for a consideration of $60,000. On the West Side, Nos. 110 to 114 West Fifty-seventh street, a six-story brownstone apartment house, the sale of which was reported last Tuesday morning, was transferred by the Lippmann estate to Edwin B. Stanton for $62,500, subject to a mortgage of $175,000. He then passed title to Eliza H. L'Engle for a consideration of $500 and mortgaged for $200,000. The property on the southwest corner of Fifth avenue and Twenty-sixth street, running through to Broadway, was mortgaged by Tobias R. Gibson to Edward D. White for $19.000. This is the former Delmonico Building sold at auction on April 26 to Charles S. Brown for $950,000, who represented, it was said, one of the heirs. At the office of John Finck it was given out that he had negotiated for Frederick Haberman a loan of $350,000 for five years at 4 per cent the southeast corner of Sixty-first street and Madison avenue, plans for which were filed on June 13 through Horgan & Slattery, architects. The structure will occupy a plot, 100.6x 90, and it is considered that it will be one of the finest apartment houses that has ever been constructed in New York.

Plans were filed yesterday by M. Bernstein. architect, for a six-story and basement tenement to be built for Samuel Borowsky, owner, at Henry and Gouverneur streets at a cost of $40,000, and by G. F. Pelham, architect, for a six-story tenement with stores to be built for Henry Kaufman, owner, at 148 East Eightythird street at a cost of $26,000.

Private Sales.

University place. Nos. 95 and 97, southeast corner of East Twelfth street, 48.6x80x irregular, has been sold by M. & L. Hess for T. J. Bartley to a client for investment. This is a ten-story fireproof building, just completed and the price was given out as $95,000. This plot was owned by the Tucker estate for many years prior to its sale to the builders by the same brokers in 1898. The store and first two lofts have already been leased to The Lewisohn Importing and Trading Company, and the next two lofts to a manufacturer of womens' wear. womens' wear.
